

James Roach

Associate Director, Federal Government Relations

P: 202-347-1117
E: jr@dhclegal.com

Jake Roach is the Associate Director for Federal Government Affairs in DHC's Washington, DC office. In this capacity he focuses on planning and implementing lobbying efforts for clients, conducts research, and composes briefings, statements, and legislative agendas. Jake is skilled in developing policy positions and legislative strategies.

Jake has experience in the campaign world, having worked on a successful congressional campaign in a highly contended battleground district of southern Florida. This experience allowed him an in-depth look at organizing and ground level political strategy.

Before joining DHC, Jake interned in the federal government relations office at Feeding America, a non-profit focused on hunger relief policy.

He is a graduate of The George Washington University, where he earned a B.A. in International Affairs with a concentration in International Politics.

Practices

Government Relations

Education

The George Washington University, B.A.

International Affairs with a concentration in International Politics.